HOME CONCERT WILL FEATURE SIX STUDENT ENSEMBLES

Six music ensembles composed of some 175 students will join forces to transform the Men's Gymnasium into a concert hall for the 29th Home Concert this Friday (April 17) at 8 p.m. All under the direction of Harold P. Davidson (Head of the Music Department), they are the Men's Glee Club, the Women's Glee Club, the Collegiate Quartet, the Majors and Minors, the Women's Sextet, and the Collegians.

The Men's Glee Club is the oldest of the groups that will perform in this variety show. They sing a wide variety of music, both accompanied and a capella. Deep River, a spiritual; Shenandoah, an American folk song; and For Una Canzone, an Italian piece by Vecchi, are but three examples of their part of the program.

The Women's Glee Club has been in existence since 1961. Although it is a relatively new group, its performances are always well-polished and enthusiastic. Lullaby, by Mettson; Look to the Rainbow, from the musical Finian's Rainbow; and If You Go Away, a French tune by Brel, are examples of the music they plan to add to the campus concert.

The Collegiate Quartet is a specialty group composed of four members of the Men's Glee Club. This Guy's in Love With You, a contemporary piece; Aura Lee, a traditional folk song; and Scarborough Fair, by Paul Simon, are typical of the repertoire from which its part of the program may be chosen.

Billed as the "World Famous Majors and Minors," the ensemble composed of 12 members of the Men's Glee Club, specializes in both barbershop renditions of "pop" music and classic barbershop literature. This is the group that picketed the San Luis Obispo City Council meeting Monday (April 6) night, promoting the upcoming concert.

The Women's Sextet is a specialty group composed of members of the Women's Glee Club. It is the female counterpart to the quartet and also specializes in popular and folk music. Fool on a Hill, Promises, Promises, and Lisa Lee are but three examples of the repertoire from which the sextet's addition will be chosen.

The Collegians is a 14-piece band that performs many contemporary pieces of music in the style of the "Big Bands." It is made up of five saxaphones, two trombones, three trumpets, drums, bass, guitar, and piano. Swing Low, Sweet Chariot, a spiritual; Hawaii Five-O, a television theme; and Aquarius, a contemporary piece, are selections of the Collegians' wide and varied repertoire that will be in the concert.

Tickets for Friday evening's performance are on sale now at Brown's Music Store and Premiere Music Company, both in San Luis Obispo, the Temporary College Union on campus, and from members of the performing groups. The cost is $1.25 for adults, and 75 cents for students and children.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE IN FOREIGN STUDENT COUNSELING

Qualified applicants for positions in the college Foreign Student Office are being sought, according to an announcement from Dale W. Andrews (Academic Vice President). Dr. Andrews has indicated that Glenn Rich, who has been foreign student advisor since 1967, has requested reassignment to teaching duties in the Agricultural Engineering Department effective Sept. 1. His request has been approved by President Robert E. Kennedy.

In addition to a replacement for Rich, the college will also have an academic-year counselor position available in the Foreign Student Office in September. Individuals interested in either of these positions are invited to inquire in the office of Douglas R. Pierce (Director of International Education), Adm-133.

Rich, a member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1953, was a member of the agricultural engineering faculty for 14 years prior to his assignment as foreign student advisor.

ROBINSON JEFFERS DISPLAY WILL CONTINUE THROUGH SATURDAY

The works of a major American poet identified with Big Sur and with a pessimistic view of civilization is on display in the Walter F. Dexter Library during National Library Week, April 12-18.

The display of works by and about Robinson Jeffers includes many limited editions and first editions from the collection of Peter N. Bartlett. The display has been arranged by Mrs. Joy Berghell (Reference Librarian).

Bartlett (Biological Sciences Department) has compiled an outstanding Robinson Jeffers collection including over 100 items, many of which are extremely rare.

Jeffers, born in 1887 and deceased in 1962, resided in Carmel and on Point Sur where, except for occasional European travels, he led the life of a near hermit for 35 years in a stone house and tower built with his own hands. He had great reverence for wildlife and deplored the effects of man upon nature a half-century before ecology and preservation of the natural environment began to be popular.

Primarily a poet, he wrote free adaptations of Greek tragedies, Medea, The Cretan Woman, and The Tower Beyond Tragedy. Among his best-known works of poetry are Roan Stallion, Tamar and Other Poems, The Women at Point Sur, and The Double Ax and Other Poems.

Bartlett, who began collecting the poet's works about eight years ago, says, "Often the only way to read a work was to locate the first, and often only, edition through a rare book dealer or on the top shelf in the back room of a dusty secondhand bookshop." His collection won first place in the Zeitlin and VerBrugge student book collection contest when Bartlett attended the University of California at Riverside. Since then several works have been added to the collection.

Renewed interest in ecology is causing more people to look into Jeffers' works to explore his view of man and nature, according to Mrs. Berghell. She said she hopes such exhibits will encourage students to develop book collections, and possibly to qualify for future book collection awards.

The display in the library foyer will be open to public view on April 13 through April 16 from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and April 17 and 18 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Cal Poly's College Union Fine Arts Committee is sponsor of the Bartlett collection exhibit.

BAN ON COMMERCIAL HANDOUTS NOTED

Commercial handouts and fliers which litter classrooms and use up college bulletin board space are illegal. Lachlan P. MacDonald (Director of Information Services) said recent inquiries by faculty and staff regarding the distribution of printed matter are answered in the College Administrative Manual. Section 786.4 on distribution of advertising states:

"No person or persons shall, upon any grounds of any state college, cast, throw, deposit, or distribute among pedestrians or to persons in vehicles any commercial advertising handbills or circulars or any handbill or circular distributed for the purpose of advertising any merchandise, commodity, property, business, service, art, or skill, offered, sold or rendered for hire, reward, price, trade or profit; provided, however, that the president of a state college or his designee may permit students enrolled at that college and persons employed at that college to distribute handbills and circulars as part of the activities of a recognized student organization at the state college, or an organization of employees at the state college." From California Administrative Code 42352.

A similar section, 786.5, establishes regulations for the distribution of controversial matter. Full details of these regulations are also contained in CAM Appendix IV, "President's Directive Regarding Use of State College Buildings and Grounds."

Copies of CAM are available in departmental and school offices and in the offices of the director of business affairs and associate dean, activities, each of whom is assigned responsibilities regarding approval of materials for campus distribution.

A flier distributed on campus recently was the subject of complaints that it created class-room litter, caused distraction, and increased custodial work. Persons who are observed distributing such handbills should be referred to the associate dean, activities, or to the director of business affairs to obtain permits, and their offices should be informed of any distribution which continues despite notification to the distributors that it is against college regulations.

WHO . . . WHAT . . . WHEN . . . WHERE ? ? ?

J. M. McRobbie (Head of Industrial Technology Department) spoke at the 32nd annual Conference on Industrial Education which took place last month in San Diego under auspices of the California State Department of Education. In his remarks titled "Innovative Practices in the Preparation of Industrial Arts Teachers at Cal Poly," Dr. McRobbie described experiences in mass production of industrial products, the two-year-long National Aeronautics and Space Administration Spacemobile project, and team-teaching experiences for future teachers at Cal Poly. Some 400 supervisors of trade-technical and industrial arts teachers attended the conference.

Peter Crooker (Physics Department) is co-author of a paper published in the December, 1969 issue of Physical Review. Titled "Phonon and Photon Paramagnetic Resonance Line Shapes in Ruby," it reported on the resonant absorption of hypersonic sound and microwaves in crystalline ruby. Dr. Crooker made the measurements and studies in collaboration with co-workers at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey.

John H. Mott (English Department) was among the featured speakers during the annual spring conference of the Southern California Council of Teachers of English which took place last Saturday (April 11) at Loyola University in Los Angeles. He discussed "Adolescent Literature: Candy to Cream Puffs."

Robert W. Adamson (Mechanical Engineering Department) and R. Wallace Reynolds (Engineering Technology Department) attended the spring meeting of the Pacific Southwest Section of the American Society for Engineering Education at San Francisco City College last Saturday (April 11). The meeting featured the young engineering teachers contest on "Recruiting of Minority Students for Schools" and "Student Experiences from Transfering from a Community College to a Four-Year College."

William Troutner (Crops Department) twice this month has presented a program on his experiences in Guatemala before San Luis Obispo County groups. Troutner, who spent two years (1966-68) in Guatemala on a Cal Poly-AID project in marketing fruits and vegetables, appeared before the San Luis Obispo County Pomona Grange and the San Luis Obispo Exchange Club.

Ralph S. Vrana (Physics Department) started a research and creative activity leave, which will last the entire Spring Quarter, last month. He is studying the influence of geological faults and associated features within San Luis Obispo County. Vrana, who recently observed an offshore zone of earthquake activity, hopes to extend that research with a systematic search for this earthquake zone extending inland, especially in the San Luis Obispo area.

Walter P. Schroeder (Head of Education Department) and William Armentrout (also Education Department) represented Cal Poly as participants in the spring meeting of the California Council on Education of Teachers held April 2-4, in Santa Barbara. In addition, Dr. Schroeder, who is chairman of the Vocational Education Curriculum Committee of the California Association of Secondary School Administrators, presented that committee's position paper before the Executive Board and Representative Council of CASSA March 28 in San Diego.

Charles P. Davis (Head of Aeronautical Engineering) has been commended for his service as a member of the National Science Foundation advisory panel which met in February to review proposals submitted to NSF's Undergraduate Education in Science Division. Lyle W. Phillips, director of that division expressed his sppreciation for Davis' participation in a recent letter to President Robert E. Kennedy.

WEEKEND CONTESTS IN STORE FOR CAL POLY ATHLETES

A full week of contests on home ground awaits Mustang spring sports teams after a week on the road for events in Southern California. First to see action will be the baseball varsity which will play host to former California Collegiate Athletic Association opponent San Diego State College in a single game billed for 3 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday, April 15), on the campus diamond. Also slated for home contests this week are the varsity track and field, tennis, and golf teams.

Following tomorrow's game, Coach Augie Garrido's Mustang diamondmen will return to CCAA action for a three-game set they hope will provide them with a return to winning form. The Cal Poly nine ventured outside its conference for a series of three contests last week and suffered as many losses at the hands of defending national college division champion Chapman College.

The Mustang baseballers' 5-5 won-lost mark in CCAA play is good enough for second spot in the standings and a 3-0 or 2-1 edge in this weekend's series with San Fernando Valley State College would edge them nearer the top. They meet SFVSC in a single game scheduled for 2:30 Friday (April 17) afternoon and a twinbill slated for 12 noon on Saturday (April 18), also on the campus diamond.

After adding an impressive victory over three opponents in last weekend's action, Coach Dick Purcell's Cal Poly track and field varsity will host Fresno State College in what may well be its biggest dual meet encounter of the 1970 season at 2 p.m., Saturday, on the track near Poly Grove.

The Mustang thinclads posted 85 points to easily outdistance California State College at Los Angeles, Cal Poly-Pomona, and University of California at Riverside last week. Cal State LA had 45 points, Cal Poly-Pomona, 41, and UCR, 23. Perhaps the outstanding performance of the meet, which took place Saturday evening on the world-famed Mt. San Antonio College oval in Walnut, was the 4:12 mile run and 48.0 mile relay leg turned in by Mustang sophomore star Mathyas Michael.

Coach Ed Jorgensen's Cal Poly tennis team, which boosted its 1970 won-lost mark to 17-3 in dual-match play, will see action on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday (April 19). The Mustang netmen will host San Fernando Valley State in a match scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on Friday, Pomona College in a 9 a.m. match on Saturday, Claremont College at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday, and University of California at Santa Barbara at 9 a.m. on Sunday (April 19). All three matches will take place on the tennis courts located near the Men's Gymnasium.

The Mustang golf varsity of Coach Bill Hicks, victor over Vandenberg Air Force Base (44-10) and California State College at Fullerton (48-6) last week, has but one home match in the next few days. It will host University of California at Irvine in a non-league match billed for 1 p.m., next Tuesday (April 21) on the San Luis Obispo Country Club course.

Cal Poly's team, with a commanding 2,559-point lead, will meet the challenges of Mesa College, second ranked at 774 points, and the University of Arizona, third at 717.

At least 12 Western Region teams, plus unattached competitors, will meet the bucking broncs, brahma bulls and fast-running steers in the arena. Greg Riedel of Jamestown, rodeo chairman, says the teams will represent universities, colleges, and community colleges in California and Arizona.

Cal Poly's own leading performers in bull riding, bronc riding, and the roping events will be in the ring. Riedel lists these top performers as Melvin Dick, bull riding; George Brown, bull riding; Tom and Larry Fergusun, roping; and Dennis Pleasant and Riedel, bronc riding. All are scoring points which will qualify them for participation in the national finals in Bozeman, Mont., in late June.

In the women's events, Sharon Meffan and Donna Carter of the Cal Poly team, and Barbara Bell and Cindy Goodman of the University of Arizona team are among the leaders for championship titles. All will be in the Poly Royal rodeo.

WOMEN INVITED TO FASHION SHOW

Grab your springtime bonnet, with all the frills upon it, and come to the "Bride's Fashion Bouquet" on Sunday (April 19) in the Staff Dining Room. That's the invitation being issued to interested women throughout the Central Coast area by Barbara Long, a spokesman for the Cal Poly chapter of Gamma Sigma Sigma national service sorority for women, which is sponsoring the event.

The show of bridal and bridesmaid apparel from Riley's Department Store in San Luis Obispo will begin at 1 p.m. Proceeds will be donated to the local March of Dimes fund drive.

Tickets for the April 19 event are priced at 75 cents when purchased in advance and will be $1 at the door. They may be purchased at the Temporary College Union Building at Cal Poly, at Riley's bridal department in downtown San Luis Obispo, and from members of Gamma Sigma Sigma, according to Miss Long, a physical education major.
